Learning Chinese in Daily Life

People who understand both phonetic zed and graphic written languages are extra smart because their brains are stimulated in a different way. For example, English, Spanish, and French are phonetic zed languages; however, Chinese is a graphic language. Would you like to do better in Chinese?
If all of your answers to the following questions are①, you will get smarter and smarter.

1. (　　) When I meet someone who speaks both Chinese and English, ①I would use the opportunity to practice speaking Chinese. ② I would just speak English as usual.

2. (　　) The way I do my Chinese homework: ① One or two pages everyday.② I wait until the last minute and do it all at once.

3. (　　) When I read Chinese textbooks or stories, ① I read zhu-yin when I can not understand the characters. ② I always read zhu-yin or pin-yin ,and I do not read the characters.

4. (　　) When I practice writing Chinese vocabularies or phrases, ① I always follow the order of the strokes. ② I do not follow the order of the strokes; I just write them any way I please.

For parents: Help your kid to learn Chinese in every possible way in daily life.

Following Others Blindly

The story of 'The Monkey Who Scooped up the Moon from the Water' tells us not to follow other people blindly. 'Blind' is 'not being able to see', 'following' is 'copying what someone else is doing'. 'Following other people blindly' means 'you copy other people to do something without thinking clearly yourself'. Which is not a very smart thing to do, right? What are you going to do when you are in situations like the following:

1. ( ) When I approach the cross road, ① I need to wait for the green light and make sure it is safe when I cross the street. ② I do not need to watch out; I just follow the people in front of me.
2. ( ) Someone stuck the gum under the desk after spitting it out, ①this is gross, and I will not do it. ② I can do it since other people do it.
3. ( ) Mary is very nice and polite in school, but some kids called her a 'nerd' just because she wears glasses and overall everyday, no one wants to play with her. ①I won't play with her either. ② I will still play with her no matter what other kids say.

For parents: Discuss with your kid how to avoid following what other people do without thinking first.

Go Back on One's Promise

In the story of 'A Journey to the West', the Dragon King gave the Monkey king a huge iron rod. However, after Dragon King found out that the iron rod is actually a magic cudgel, he was regret and wanted to get it back.

Have you ever "go back on your promise" before? What would you do if you had a situation like this:

If you had 2 identical football cards and you gave one to your brother. But now you have lost the one you had and you are really upset, what are you going to do?

1. Ask your brother to give it back to you, because it was yours in the first place.
2. Discuss with your brother to see if you can exchange another card with him.
3. You won't mention the card again since it's his now.

For parents: Talk with your kid about why it's not good to go back on one's promise.

Gentleness

Through the story of 'The North Wind and the Sun', we have learned that it takes less effort for gentle and kind people to get things done; in other words, gentleness is more powerful than force. If you can do the following things in your daily life, you will definitely become a very popular and competent person.

Please read aloud and try to remember!

1. I always feel grateful, and I keep smile all the time.
2. I respect everyone, and I am polite and gentle to others.
3. I always say "please" and "thank you".
4. I do not throw a tantrum when I am upset about something.
5. I forgive other people because I make mistakes too.

For parents: Think about some good examples from daily life which prove being gentle and polite helps to succeed.
